MENTORING

"The world is full of educated derelicts."
– Calvin Coolidge

While our training system produces some of the most knowledgeable advisors, knowledge is not power. It's the application of this knowledge that is powerful. At David White & Associates, 70% of our business has 2 advisors working together. Whether you are new to the business and don't know what you don't know, or more experienced and know what you don't want to do, don't overlook the opportunity.

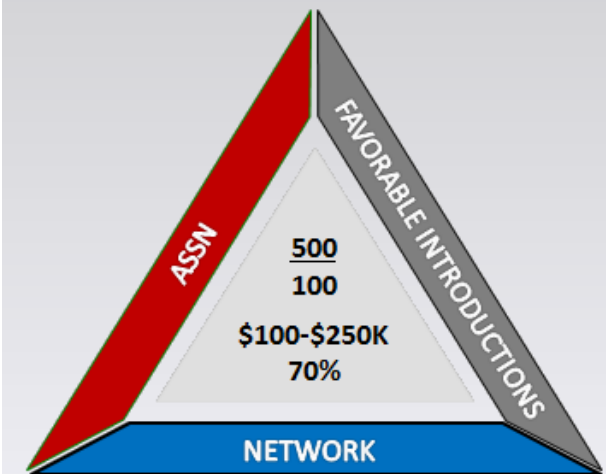

By learning in the field with experienced advisors, your practice grows much faster and you can trust that clients are getting the best advice while your education continues.

MARKETS

Association business will represent about 20-30% of your marketing plan. We add these markets to assist you in your efforts of building a successful practice. Studies show most financial professionals will earn the average of their client base. So it is critical to add affluent business owners to your book of business.

When ready, we help you by providing leads from our association mailing programs. This will, over time, become a key part of your goals.
